

Prodigy Modern Slavery Policy

Prodigy Capital Partners LLP has given careful consideration to Section 54 “Transparency in Supply Chains” of the Modern Slavery Act 2015. We have concluded that it is extremely improbable that the services we provide could be affected by slavery, as could the supply chains of those entities who provide us with administrative products and services. Accordingly, we have not deemed it necessary for Prodigy to take any further action in respect of this legislation. We will, of course, keep legislation in this area under review and take antislavery considerations into account in the future conduct of our business.
